

The current rule that prevents cross ownership is vital to maintaining free press. If these large companies are allowed to own the media, television and newspaper, we will have the same fiasco that we do with ClearChannel owning the radio stations. We will not be receiving multiple sides of the news to allow us to make our own decision. It will no more than propaganda, more than it currently is. It will push out the independent stations that maintain some sanity in the insane way things are going. The FCC commission is to represent the people and their voice. How can you know our voice when you don't ask. The average American doesn't even know that this is being up for review.
